The synthetic risk indicator assumes that the product is held for 5 years and is an indicative indication of the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It expresses the probability that the product will suffer monetary losses due to movements in the market or due to our inability to pay you what is due. We ranked this product at level 4 out of 7, which corresponds to a medium risk class. This means that potential losses due to the future performance of the product are ranked in the medium level and that poor market conditions could affect the ability to pay you what is due. What happens if Symphonia Lux Sicav is unable to pay out?

If we are not able to pay you out what we owe you, you are not covered by any national compensation scheme. To protect you, the assets are held with a separate company, a depositary. Should we default, the depositary would liquidate the investments and distribute the proceeds to the investors. In the worst case, however, you could lose your entire investment.

What are the costs?

The expenses incurred are used to cover the Fund's operating expenses including the costs of marketing and distribution of the Fund. These expenses reduce the potential return on investment. The tables show the amounts taken out of the investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on the size of the investment, the length of time the product is held, and the performance of the product. The amounts are shown here for illustrative purposes and are based on an example investment amount and several possible investment periods. The following was assumed: In the first year recovery of the invested amount (0 % annual return). For the other holding periods, the product was assumed to have the performance indicated in the moderate scenario; EUR 10 000 of investment. In some cases, it is possible that the amounts due may be lower: the investor is advised to contact his or her financial advisor or distributor in order to verify the actual amount.
